

Beating the Heat in Bali

By Jade House - July 27, 2017

Bali enjoys warm temperatures year round, which can be a welcome retreat for those from colder climes. But the heat and humidity can also be a shock to the system. So, let us help you discover some fun ways to beat the heat in Bali that don't include air-conditioned hotel rooms!

If you're planning a trip to Bali soon, or just dreaming about the island, read on for ways to stay cool in the Bali weather while making the most of the island.

Dip in the blue

The waters surrounding beautiful Bali are wonderfully clear and bursting with life. Grab a snorkel and head out for a swim with the fishes. Better yet, take a boat out to the nearby islands, like Nusa Lembongan or Menjangan Island, and enjoy the wind in your hair on the way to the best snorkelling spots in Bali.

Bali is also a fantastic place to learn to dive and enjoy the cooler waters of the deep. But, if you are not keen on regulators and flippers, you could try the unique marine walking experience.

Hit the surf

Most of Bali's beaches are surf beaches rather than calm water tides, so there is no better place to pick up a surfboard and learn from Bali's surf masters. Padang Padang beach and Medewi beach are firm favourites but there are plenty of other hidden gems to choose from.

Whether snorkelling or surfing, make sure to lather on the waterproof sun cream to avoid those harmful UVs! A rash vest is also a good option if you are planning on sticking to the sea for a while.

Make a splash at Waterbom

Source

One of the best water parks in the world (as voted on Tripadvisor) can be found in the centre of Bali's main commercial hub of Kuta. The self-proclaimed 'one-stop leisure capital of Bali', Waterbom has all you could want from a watery theme park. Daring rides and lazy rivers, fantastic dining areas and plenty of shaded spots to lounge with a drink in hand, Bali's top attraction has something for everyone.

Following our recent article about Bali's fresh water crisis, you may be concerned about the ethics of visiting a water park on the island. But fear not as Waterbom are also partnered with IDEP and recycle an incredible 3,600m³ of water every day.

Start your day at sunset